DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3-8, 10, 13, 14, 17 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bottomore et al. (4,660,463). See figs. 1, 3 and 4. Regarding claim 4, see elements 5 for the intermediate spacer and 6 for the end spacer. Regarding claim 10, see col. 3, lines 29-32.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Regarding claims 2, 9, 11, Bottomore et al. discloses all of the limitations of the claim except for the preformed bend forming an angle of about 70 to 110 degrees between the flange and the remainder of the tail portion, the sheet having a thickness of about 0.010 inch to about 0.040 inch, the synthetic polymeric material being polyvinyl chloride, . However, since the applicant has failed to establish any criticality or synergistic results which are derived from the recited configurations, these limitations are considered a matter of obvious design choice. Thus, the applicant's design configurations would have been an obvious improvement to one of ordinary skill in the art with regard to the apparatus disclosed in Bottomore et al.

Art Unit: 3749

Claims 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bottomore et al. It is well-known in the art of HVAC to design a score line to facilitate cutting. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to incorporate the features of a score line to facilitate cutting into the system of Bottomore et al. for the purpose of ease of cutting.

Claim(s) 15 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bottomore et al. in view of Fitzgerald (4,189,878). Bottomore et al. discloses all of the limitations of the claim(s) except for a stiffener disposed along at least one of the first end and the two side edges. Fitzgerald discloses the presence of a stiffener. See abstract. Hence, one skilled in the art would find it obvious to modify the system of Bottomore et al. to include the stiffener of Fitzgerald for the purpose of increased support.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The provided references are representative of the state of the art that is applicable to the applicant's invention. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Derek S. Boles at (571) 272-4872.
